

9

9A there is / there are

3 47 ))) Listen and repeat. Then read the rules.

Singular	Plural
<input type="checkbox"/> There's a TV. There's a lamp. <input type="checkbox"/> There isn't a phone. There isn't a bathroom. <input type="checkbox"/> Is there a swimming pool? <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes, there is. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No, there isn't.	There are two beds. There are some books. There aren't any towels. There aren't any windows. Are there any chairs? Yes, there are. No, there aren't.

Use SOME cuando no sabe la cantidad y en oraciones afirmativas.

Use ANY en oraciones negativas e interrogativas PLURALES

- There's a TV in my hotel room. = the room has a TV
- there's = there is
- Use there is for singular nouns and there are for plural nouns.
- Word order:
☐ There is a swimming pool.
☐ Is there a swimming pool?
- Don't contract there is in short answers, e.g., Yes, there is. NOT Yes, there's.

Some and any

some

☐ There are some towels in the bathroom.

any

☐ There aren't any towels in the bathroom.

☐ Are there any towels in the bathroom?

- Use some and any + plural nouns.
- Some = you don't say how many